Pastor’s Pondering

Supposedly, John D. Rockefeller, founder of Standard Oil and one of the richest Americans ever, was ask how much money is enough, to which he replied, “Just a little bit more.” I think the question is a good one, and not just about money. In a society that is focused on getting more and having more (more entertainment, toys, news, recreation, and, yes, money), it is good to ask how much is enough.

God likes the idea of enough. Jesus often told His disciples “it is enough...” Paul reminded Timothy that we come and go from this world with nothing, and that we should be content if we have food and clothing. (1 Tim. 6:8) Contentment goes along with the idea of enough; it is our acceptance that we have enough and do not need “just a little bit more.”

How about you? Do you have enough, or do you need “just a little bit more?”

- Blessings, David

Worship Preparation

We celebrate the Lord’s Supper and see Jesus’ teaching from the supper in Luke 22:14-27.
