Pastor's Pondering

There is an expression: Be kind, for everyone you meet is fighting a battle you know nothing about. It suggests that the people we meet who act harshly toward us or who cause disruptions in our lives are doing so because they are struggling with something that has nothing to do with us.

I believe this can be true, especially when sin is involved. I have seen, at times, people who are angry, yelling, and accusing others, and then I discovered they were struggling with sin or temptation. The outward anger was due to an internal struggle.

Ephesians 6:12 says that the true struggle is not with the person, but with spiritual powers. Those powers may be resulting in a besetting sin that is disrupting that person's life.

If someone in your life is unreasonably angry or difficult, consider that it may be about a spiritual struggle and not you.

- Blessings, David

Worship Preparation

Showing that false teachers will continue to get worse, Paul encourages us to continue getting wiser from God's word in 2 Timothy 3:10-17.

June Memory Verse

Ephesians 6:12

For our struggle is not against flesh and blood, but against the rulers, against the powers, against the world forces of this darkness, against the spiritual forces of wickedness in the heavenly places.
