Pastor's Pondering

When do we truly love someone? I know I most often tell my wife I love her when she does something nice for me or I am especially happy with her. I tell my kids I love them on a regular basis, but when do I truly love them?

I think we truly love someone when we actively show them love even though they are hurting or failing us. It is easy to love someone when they save me the last slice of pizza, but harder to love them when they steal that last slice right off my plate!

Everybody loves people who are nice to them. Jesus tells us that even sinners do good to those who do good to them, and love those who love them. He calls us to a higher standard. He calls us to love our enemies, to do good to those who hurt us, and to forgive them. This is what Jesus did.

Jesus truly loves us. When we truly love others, we will do the same.

- Blessings, David
