Worship Preparation

Sometimes, it can seem like the wicked will go on forever. We cry out to God for deliverance, but it never seems to come as quickly as we would like. This isn't a problem with God's timing, but our expectations. As we see in 1 Kings 22:1-40, God's judgement does come in time.

Pastor's Pondering

How do you measure time? Some people measure time by hunting seasons, others by sports seasons. Maybe you measure it by school schedules or by the seasons of your work environment.

Looking at the calendar, I am excited about the 16th of August—it means that we are halfway through with August and that much closer to September, which means cooler weather will be approaching in October, which ends with the beginning of a wonderful stretch of holidays. Can November come fast enough?!

God's word slows me down and brings me back. "There is an appointed time for everything. And there is a time for every event under heaven." (Eccl. 3:1) I am ready for the Fall and ache for Winter, but now is the Summer and August the heat. God is now, and we will find Him here, always now. "Give us this day our daily bread." (Matt. 6:11) Enjoy God today!

- Blessings, David

When you pray with your whole heart, God is going to show you stuff. It might not be pretty. It might be hard to take, but it's going to open up worlds for you. Opportunities for growth. Ways in which you can become a better Christian. Don't fear that that's some New Age crap. That's God. Embrace it. Grow.
