

KIMBERLY THORPE SPEAKS

ABOUT

KIMBERLY

Kimberly Thorpe is a Keynote Speaker & Workshop Leader for women's organizations, couples, families, young professionals groups, churches, associations, and colleges and universities.

Kimberly is a Transformational Speaker, Entrepreneur, Mentor, Licensed Therapist and Ordained Preacher dedicated to helping individuals, families, couples, associations, and church congregants connect to vision and pursue goals that are best suited for them.

Kimberly is skilled at captivating audiences, meeting them where they are and assisting them with laying out a plan that will transform their life. She is passionate about helping people clarify where they are now and where they would like to be. She has been instrumental in helping individuals, groups, families and couples identify a vision for their lives and put disciplines in place that will lead them to achieving at their highest level of satisfaction.

Kimberly was born in Pontiac, Michigan, the youngest of three and the product of married teen parents. She was raised in an impoverished situation, but she was always determined to succeed and experience life according to her vision for success. She is a first generation college graduate, earning a Bachelor's in psychology @ {Oakland University} and a Master's in Social Work @ {University of Michigan}. She has successfully inspired many to pursue higher education, entrepreneurship and life purpose.

Her powerful testimonies and stories will encourage you to make a decision to move forward, make a commitment to achieve and live the life you were chosen and destined to live. As a child, Kimberly observed from the sideline as her young teen parents lived and died depressed, never giving themselves permission to pursue the life they were created and destined to live. Both of her parents died before discovering why they were created or what they were passionate about. Although they both had a vision of the life they wanted to live, neither of them embraced the opportunity to pursue their vision. She does not want this to be anyone else's story. She would like to work with as many individuals, families, couples and groups that she can reach in an effort to guide them on their pursuit to live out their vision.

She is the author of "I Have a Vision for My Life" (interactive booklet) and the author of "How to Attract the Life You Want" (booklet).

If you can imagine it
and visualize it,
you can,
create it.

I Have A Vision For My Life

I share my vision, my story and the tools I used to develop a plan to move forward. I will motivate the participants to become more focused on their future by encouraging them to share their story, their current philosophy, and how they filter information and in turn get results.

This presentation will prompt the participants to:

- ☒ Get hungry for success
- ☒ Live life purposefully
- ☒ Believe in themselves
- ☒ Identify barriers and extinguish them
- ☒ Set in place goals and disciplines that align with their vision
