

Privacy Policy/Security Policy

At the Healing Place Center for Counseling and Spiritual Formation, we respect your privacy. We do this by carefully protecting information that you provide to us. We may collect personally identifiable information when you visit our site. The following discloses what information our web site collects from you and what we do with the information. This privacy statement is for informational purposes only and should not be viewed as a contract between you and The Healing Place or its affiliates.

When you connect to our web site, we are able to recognize the internet (IP) address of the computer providing you with Internet access. Our use of this IP address may help to diagnose problems with our server or otherwise administer our Web site. This IP address may also be used to gather broad demographic information. Your IP address is never associated with you as an individual and never provided to another company or organization. We will not sell your personally identifiable information to anyone.

When you shop for products from our web site, using the shopping cart, our site writes a small data file called a cookie on your computer. No personal information is placed in this file.

We do not collect your name or email address, unless you provide it on an order form, registration form, survey form, or send us an email. Our site's forms may ask or require you to give us contact information such as your email address, financial information, such as your account or credit card numbers when you are making a purchase, and demographic information, such as your zip code. We use this information to provide information, products, or services that you request from us.

For example, financial information is used to bill you for products and services that you order. Any information collected is primarily for the Healing Place use and is not made available to any outside group or organization except other affiliates of the Healing Place or New Life Books and gifts for designated purposes.

Our web site may contain links to other sites. We cannot be responsible for the privacy practices or the content of sites that do not belong to the Healing Place Center for Counseling and Spiritual Formation.

If you have any questions about this privacy statement, the practices of this site, or your dealings with this Web site, feel free to contact us.

Security Policy

Your payment and personal information is always safe. Our Secure Sockets Layer(SSL) software is the industry standard and among the best software available today for secure commerce transactions. It encrypts all of your personal information, including credit card number, name, and address, so that it cannot be read over the internet.

If you have any questions about our security statement, the practices of this site, or your dealings with this Website, feel free to contact us.
