

Did You Know?

- Palestine, the land where Jesus lived, has sandy, rocky soil. It's very hard to bury people in graves underground.
- Jewish people would wrap a dead body in long strips of linen cloth with costly spices and perfumes smeared over the cloths.
- The amount of perfume used could weigh up to 75 pounds. This made the cloths turn into a hard shell around the body.
- The body was then placed in a natural cave (a tomb) or a man-made cave (a sepulchre).
- The large stone rolled in front of Jesus' tomb couldn't stop Him from rising from the dead!
