

The third passage we see is in Luke. Jesus was traveling with his followers through Jericho and saw a short man up in a tree. He was there just to get a glimpse of Jesus. Jesus invites Himself to this man's home and explains His reason. "For the Son of man came to seek and to save that which was lost." Jesus never came to establish an earthly utopia. His mission was not to transform society. His purpose was personal and individual. He came to save people from their sins.

He put things in perspective with these words: "For what shall a man be profited, if he shall gain the whole world, and forfeit his life? Or what shall a man give in exchange for his life? For the Son of man shall come in the glory of his Father with his angels; and then shall he render unto every man according to his deeds: (Matt. 16:26-27). He did not come to resolve trouble and sorrow from the world. He came to remove those in trouble from this world of sorrow and sin. And, His words were not designed to revolutionize society, but to change the heart, and thereby change the life. For, only through changed life can one come to Him. So, He warns us, "Except ye repent, ye shall all in like manner perish" (Luke 13:3, 5). Only in this way can one fulfill his role in life.
