¹⁸Then Jesus came to them and said, “All authority in heaven and on earth has been given to me. ¹⁹Therefore go and make disciples of all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit, ²⁰and teaching them to obey everything I have commanded you. And surely, I am with you always, to the very end of the age.”

Matthew 28:18-20

Wrong Conclusions

Despite the clear evidence, they all came to the wrong conclusions. The story in 1 Samuel 4-5 would be funny if it wasn’t so sad. The Philistines had been warring against the Israelites and winning. So, the Israelites got the bright idea that if they took the Ark of the Covenant to the battle site, God would give them victory.

Wrong Conclusion #1

They had reduced the Ark of the Covenant down to nothing more than an idol, thinking the mere physical presence of the Ark would give them victory. That was no better than thinking that being in a church building will automatically result in worship.

As the story continues, the Israelites lost the battle. In the battle 30,000 Israelite soldiers were slain. Sometimes the numbers of the slain become just a number to us, but these men were real people: sons, husbands, brothers, fathers. The loss was a genuine tragedy.

The Philistines also captured the Ark of the Covenant, placing it in the temple next to their god, Dagon. The next morning, Dagon had fallen face down in front of the Ark of the Covenant (wonder how that happened). Since Dagon was only a man-made statue, the people had to pick him up and place him next to the Ark again. (Aren’t you glad our God doesn’t need us to do something like that?) But the next morning, not only was Dagon again on his face on the floor in front of the Ark, his head and hands had broken off and were lying on the threshold.
