God Is My Shepherd

In Genesis 48:15-16, Jacob blesses Joseph's sons and describes God as the One who has shepherded him all his life. This is the first time God is called a shepherd in Scripture. Jacob looks back and sees that God has guided, protected, and sustained him through every season.

This reveals a foundational truth about God's character. He is not distant. He is a shepherd who walks with His people, even when they wander. Jacob's life was full of twists, yet he recognized that God's care was constant.

This image of God as shepherd becomes central throughout Scripture. It shapes how we understand His leadership, His protection, and His love.

If you feel uncertain or weary, remember Jacob's testimony. God has been shepherding you even when you didn't notice. His care is steady, and His guidance is sure.
