HARVEST/MISSION SPEAKERS

Joel and Kara Barkman joined SEND in 2014 and lived in Spain for five years promoting creative arts in worship. In early 2022 they returned to the US and now live in Kansas with their two boys Mateo and Owen. Their new role as Worship and Arts Development Coordinator opened the door for the formation of the Worldwide Worship Studio, a music production studio aimed at assisting other countries as they develop, write, record and publish their own worship music. The Worldwide Worship Studio aims to be a platform by which more churches can sing worship music that was written by their own people, in their own language and style.

Darwin and Karen Stoesz have been serving with SEND International since 2004. They served in Japan for more than 18 years, assisting local churches, providing financial leadership, and serving in leadership roles at Christian Academy in Japan. Today, they continue to serve SEND International full-time while living in Whitewater, Kansas. Darwin currently serves as Assistant Treasurer in SEND's International Office. Our mission is to care for and support missionaries so that their ministries can thrive. They have two daughters, one who is married and one who is in college.
