Notice of Privacy Practices (HIPPA)

As a licensed mental health provider, I am required by federal and state laws to protect your privacy. The Health Information Portability & Accountability Act (HIPPA) establishes limits on how our health information may be used and shared and how it must be protected. When Florida laws protecting your health records are more restrictive than federal laws, I must abide by the Florida laws. The following Notice of Privacy Practices will tell you about the ways I may use and share mental health information about you. It will also describe your rights and my obligations regarding the use and disclosure of your mental health information.

My Pledge to You Regarding Your Mental Health Information

The privacy of your mental health information is important to me. I create a record of the treatment you receive from me to provide you with quality treatment and to comply with certain legal requirements. I understand this information is personal and I am committed to protecting it.

This Notice of My Privacy Practices Describes:

- How and to what extent the privacy of your Protected Health Information is guaranteed.
- How your Protected Health Information may be used and disclosed.
- How you may access portions of your Protected Health Information and the procedure for doing so.

Your Protected Health Information (PHI)

Your PHI includes any individually identifiable information created or received about you. Specifically, it includes identification of symptoms, diagnosis, medications, treatment, appointment dates and times, session summaries, and payment history.

Use and Disclosure of Your Protected Health Information (PHI)

- I will not share with your managed care company (insurance) or Employee Assistance Program (EAP) the PHI required to obtain authorization to treat you and to bill for your treatment services.
- I will not share your PHI with another therapist or treatment facility.
- I will not share your PHI with any other individual, including family members, except in the case of minor children.
- I am required by law to report abuse and/or neglect of children, elderly, and persons with disabilities to the proper authorities. This report may, of necessity, include your PHI.
- I am required by law to take immediate action, including the release of your PHI, if I believe that you or someone else is at imminent risk of harm.
- I may share your PHI with my Clinical Supervisor, Misty Lee Fenton, LMHC whom has agreed to abide by the terms of my Notice of Privacy Practices.
- I may disclose your PHI in response to a court order, subpoena, warrant, summons, or similar legal process.
- I may disclose your PHI as required by federal, state, or local law.

Your Privacy Rights

- With the exception of the purposes listed above, you have the right to decide if your PHI is given out to a third party and to specify what information is given. You do this by completing and signed the Authorization for Release of Confidential Information form provided by your counselor upon request. You may revoke this consent at any time.
- You have the right to review and get copies of your PHI with certain exceptions. This request must be in writing and there may be charges for copies and postage.

- You may request that corrections or additions be made to your PHI if you believe that there is an error or a significant omission.
- You may request additional restrictions on y use or disclosure of your PHI.
- You may request that I use an alternative way to communicate with you in a confidential manner or communicate with you at an alternative location about your PHI.
- You may obtain a list of the times I have disclosed your health information for purposes other than treatment, payment, healthcare operations, and other specified exceptions.
- You will receive a paper copy of my Notice of Privacy Practices for your records.
- You have the right to file a written complaint with the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services if you believe your privacy rights have been violated.

My Legal Duty

As a licensed mental health provider, I am required to abide by the terms of this notice. However, I reserve the right to change my privacy practices and the terms of this notice at any time provided the changes are permitted by law or meet any new requirement implemented by law for the benefit of your PHI. Before I make any important changes to my privacy practices, I will revise this notice and make the new notice available to you on your first visit following revisions. Any changes in my privacy practices and the new terms of this notice will be effective form the date of the revision forward for all mental health information I keep. You are entitled to receive a copy of the most current notice and may obtain it at any time by request.

By signing below, I acknowledge that I have been given a copy of this Notice of Privacy Practices and have read all of the above information. I acknowledge that all questions regarding my privacy have been answered in an acceptable manner.

Client Policies and Informed Consent for Therapy

Client Expectations of the Counseling Process and Outcomes

Your goals and expectations are more likely to be met when you understand the nature and limitations of counseling. Generally, counseling is most useful in helping people improve their self-awareness to allow positive change in their life. Counseling provides a safe and confidential atmosphere to examine the way you choose to process information and to help you expand your ability to react to the world around you. Most people experience improvement or resolution of their concerns that brought them to counseling. However, there are no guarantees and there may be risks. For example, counseling could open up new level of awareness that could cause discomfort. We will work together as a team towards your personal counseling goals, but you determine the nature and amount of change you wish to make. Please be advised I do not keep secrets between partners and any information you choose to share may become part of our sessions if I believe it will benefit your therapy goals.

Secrets Policy and Couples

As your couple's therapist I will not hold secrets of one partner of the couple that are revealed in individual sessions or outside the presence of the partner/spouse. I may, at my discretion, choose to disclose information that has been revealed by you outside of the presence on your partner/spouse if I believe it is clinically appropriate.

Office Visits

Hourly rates are based on a 50-minute session, which allows for necessary documentation time. At times, sessions may be slightly longer or shorter based on the therapist's judgement to maximize the quality of the session. After our initial session, we will determine together the frequency and availability of continued sessions. While the length of therapy varies from client to client, it is my aim to work together until resolution is found. It is your right as a client to terminate therapy at any time or to seek a second opinion from another therapist. Payments are to be made at the end of each session and accepted forms of payment include cash, check, or debit/credit card. When requested, documentation can be provided to assist you in seeking reimbursement from your insurance provider.

Cancellation Policy

Please notify me of appointment cancellations at least 24 hours in advance of your appointment time to avoid a late cancellation/missed appointment fee. You will be charged your regular session fee of $120 for missed appointments and cancelations made after 24 hours. However, you will not be charged in cases of emergency situations. As a courtesy, an appointment reminder will be sent to you the day before your appointment, but you are ultimately responsible for managing your scheduled appointments.

Methods of Contact

On occasion, there might be a need to have contact outside a normal session. To preserve your confidentiality, I request that email or text be used only to schedule or confirm appointment dates/times as I cannot assume responsibility for the security maintenance of electronic transmissions. In times of immediate crisis or emergency, I may be contacted by phone. If it is outside normal business hours of 9 AM to 7 PM, please leave a message and I will return your call as soon as possible. If you have a life-threatening emergency, please call 911 or the Tampa Bay Crisis Center at 211 for immediate assistance.

Confidentiality

The notion of confidentiality is paramount in counseling. Everything disclosed between the therapist and client is confidential, unless authorized by the client or required by law. A client may authorize the release of confidential information by signing an Authorization for Release of Confidential Information form, which will be provided to you upon request. I will not release any confidential information without this written authorization, unless such release is otherwise authorized or required by law. The law requires mandated release of confidential information in the case of child abuse or neglect, if the client has intent to harm himself/herself or others, or in the case of a court subpoena. For additional details on how your information may be used and our rights to our health care information, please refer to the Notice of Privacy Practices that you received.

Termination

You may terminate treatment at any time. However, I ask clients who wish to terminate to schedule one last session so we can review your treatment progress and overall improvements, and finalize treatment. If you appear to have met your goals at any point, I may ask whether you would like to end our sessions or set new goals. Also, if you or I believe you are not benefiting from treatment with me, I may discuss ending our sessions and refer you to another psychotherapist for continued treatment.

By signing below, I acknowledge I have read the preceding information, understand my rights as a client and all general policies, and acknowledge I have received a copy of this document for my records.

Payment Information

Your therapist requires a card to be kept on file for your session payments. Your card will be automatically charged for any missed appointments and cancelations made less than 24 hours in advance, and an additional $35 fee for any declined or late payments. By signing below, you consent to the policies above and authorize your card on file to be charged at the end of each session.
