

The Community Service and Support Network

IMAGINE

An easy way for volunteers to find rewarding community-wide service opportunities.

Why?

Many people who are trying to find a non-profit involvement give up because the search is so difficult. For those who find a place to serve, some lose heart and only serve for a while. We know that people remain committed to people groups that touch their heart while serving synergistically alongside diversely gifted people of that same passionate interest.

How?

A free site that acts as a volunteer Human Resource Department for communities as a whole. Volunteer-minded people easily self-select personalized passion-aligned service involvement utilizing Service Opportunity Descriptions (Job Descriptions) that clarify the work and time involved.

What?

The unique Community Service And Support Network approach facilitates and refreshes city-wide collaborations. This very simple yet profound approach helps people quickly sort through the myriads of community service options. Each are supported by individuals we call Connectors who volunteer their time to vet and connect people on behalf and in support of one non-profit. Connectors are passion-aligned individuals who work to help their Executive Director reduce ancillary expenses while also adding mission critical volunteer roles.

Objectives

UNDERSTAND IT: Community non-profits utilize volunteer Connectors who use the CSAS Network to share their individual needs with interested parties.

USE IT: Encourage community members to use the site to volunteer in support of people in the difficult situations they care most about.

PROMOTE IT: Community members spread information about the network throughout the region.

Community Volunteers
Search for a Match

People in a Situation
My Skills / Abilities

CSAS
Network
Website

Email Connector

Volunteer & Connector
Discuss the Opportunity

Connector Introduces Volunteer for Initiation of Service

Non-profit