

INTRODUCTION: We have completed five sessions of study of Paul’s letter to the believers in Rome. In the five sessions, we reviewed some major themes to help us understand what Paul wanted to communicate. By studying through 2:16, we have also begun making our way through the text of this letter. So that we don’t lose too much along the way, today, we pause to review what has already been discussed and take a moment to address any questions that you may still have.

We will also hear a small group presentation to help our understanding of the first five sessions.
