Volleyball Game News

By Alex Yu

On September 26, the Judson team had a game with another school, it was Judson vs Southwestern. At the end of the game, Judson lost the game, and the last score was 0:3. Judson lost, but Judson's athletes did their best.

One Judson player, Kristina Sobolic, said, "The gym was really hot and the floor was slippery."

And another player, Shelby A, said, "I feel the team is better, but it is very unfortunate because we just lost by two points."

Judson should not be dejected, should pay close attention to practice, lay the foundation for future competition. Our team in this volleyball season did very well!

Judson Football

By: Hector Liu

It is the football season right now!!! Judson/Waldorf played against Sequoyah High school at Judson Campus in Pasadena Thursday, Sept 28.

Can you believe that the score is 42 - 0? It was our first football game, all people in this team have been training so hard, and what they did in training, is what they will get in the competition. Just keep doing this, fighting!

When we asked them about the team traditions, Donghyuk (Daniel) Lee said, "You have to do push-ups for your birthday. The number of push-ups are determined by your age. So if you become 14, you have to do 14 pushups."

The Ms. Todd You Never Knew

By: Shelby Alvord

Ms. Todd is a new teacher at Judson. But she is already well liked and known by the students and faculty. Here are just a few interesting facts about her.

Where did you grow up?

Hawaii; born there lived there my whole life until college.

What college did you go to?

Biola

What did you major in?

Mathematics; 17 classes

Do you have any siblings?

Have an older sister and younger brother

Why did you come to Judson?

Because they hired me. I looked at schools within 50 miles of me and started sending out resumes to private Christian high schools. And they were the first to respond.

What's your favorite thing about Judson?

The people, the students and the faculty--just a really great group of people.

When you were little what did you want to be when you grew up?

I wanted to be a vet for 8 years, but I gave up on that dream.

Did you always want to be a teacher?

No; from senior year of HS.

What do you do with your free time ?

Sleep, what free time?

What's one of your regrets?

I don't think I regret anything, because everything that's happened to me or that I've done has brought me to where I am now. And even though my life isn't perfect (and never will be), this is where God has me, so this is where I want to be.

What is your favorite book?

And Then There Were None by Agatha Christie (she's my favorite author). I've read it like three times, which is a lot for someone who hates reading as much as I do (mainly because I'm dyslexic).

If you won the lottery how would you use it?

Obviously, I'd have to donate some of it. Probably most of it. I don't need that kind of money, and others can use it so much better than I could.

What is something you're afraid of?

Awake brain surgery. If I was ever told I had to go through that, I couldn't. Can you imagine people cutting into your brain while you're still awake?? (I know it's very unlikely, but still.)

What would you do if you were told you only had a week left to live?

I honestly have no idea. I guess I'd just spend a bunch of time with people while I could. I don't know what else would seem important at that point.

If you could only keep 5 of your possessions what five would you pick and why?

My car, obviously, because look at it. My apartment key, so I could go home. And I need a bed.

If you could visit anywhere in the world where would you not go?

Ireland, hands down. I have always wanted to go and never had the opportunity.

If you could have any power what would it be?

Oh, gosh. I don't know. I don't really feel like I want that kind of responsibility. Then, I'd have to use my powers for good and everything--it's just too much.

What is your favorite Bible character? Do you relate to them? Why?

Bible character would have to be Job. He goes through so much and still trusts God through everything. I definitely relate to him, as I think we all do on some level, trying to keep our faith in God when things around us seem to be falling apart.

If you could only keep 5 of your possessions what five would you pick and why?

I don't know! These questions are crazy! I guess my computer, because it has so much information on it, and my phone.

If you were president what would be the first thing you would do?

Resign. I don't need that stress, and I am not fit for the job.

If you could witness any event in the past present or future what would it be, and why?

It would be really interesting, and I think humbling, to be there for some part of the French Revolution or World War II or something, but I'd have to be guaranteed that I wouldn't die.

What is a skill you would like to learn why?

I would love to play the violin really well. I took a class in high school, but never really stuck with it. It's my favorite instrument--I just think it's so beautiful.

The Golden Victory of Vanderwall

By Leah Soderling

The winner of America's Got Talent is only 12 years old, and her name is Grace Vanderwaal. When she was 3 years old, she was already creating songs. Her life has always been music. On her 11th birthday, she got a ukulele. Her talent was singing her own songs while playing her ukulele.

For her first Audition on America's Got Talent, she performed her own original called "I don't know my name". After her performance Howie Mandel, one of the four judges, was so amazed with her performance that he hit the golden buzzer. Simon Cowell, another Judge, told Grace Vanderwaal, "I think you're the next Taylor Swift." Then Grace sang "Beautiful Thing" for the quarter finals. For the semifinals she sang "Light Up The Sky" At the finale she sang "Clay" that she wrote herself.

Since she won the 1 million, she told the media what she was going to do with the money. "I want to buy a tree house, actually two, one for me and one for my sister with ziplines joining them so we can visit each other," she explained.

Interviewing International Students

By: Hunter Feldmann

Kevin Shi
Is the food different in America?

Yes food is different, in America food is cooked faster, has less oil, and more cheese. Food is very light and generally healthier in China.

Is style (clothing) different in America?

There is not a big difference, except that in the north clothing is more simple, and in the south clothing is more decorative!

Was/is it hard learning

English?

Yes, it was challenging in the beginning, although I was only in the ELD program for one year!

Did you choose to come to America?

I chose to come to America.

Are the popular sports in your country popular here?

Basketball and Ping Pong are the most popular sports!

How is school different in America?

In China school is more academically rigorous. There are mostly public schools, it is rare for a person to go to a private school in China.

Did you have a uniform at your old school?

Yes, my school had a uniform in China.

Are the times we eat (Breakfast, Lunch, Dinner) different?

In Columbia, we ate breakfast at 7:00 am, lunch at noon, and dinner at 8:00 pm

Was/is it hard to make friends in America?

No it was not hard making friends, the Americans are very friendly!

Are the times we eat (Breakfast, Lunch, Dinner) different?

In China, Breakfast, Lunch, and Dinner are all at the same time as in America.

Was/is it hard to make friends in America?

No, it was not hard to make friends in America, everyone was really friendly!

John Cho

Is the food different in America?

In the United States everything is cheap and large portions, in Korea it's expensive for small portions; for example a coffee costs $10!

Are the times we eat (Breakfast, Lunch, Dinner) different?

Koreans have the same Breakfast, Lunch, and Dinner times as Americans.

Is style (clothing) different in America?

The style is the same, but some teenagers dress more hip and stylish than they do in America.

Was/is it hard learning English?

It was hard for me at first because Korean is very different.

Did you choose to come to America?

It was partly my parents forcing me and partly me being curious.

Are the popular sports in your country popular here?

Soccer is the most popular sport in Korea!

How is school different in America?

Korean school is more challenging. The grade levels are a bit different too, Middle school is grades 7-9 and High school is 10-12!

Did you have a uniform at your old school?

Yes, my old school had a uniform.

Was/is it hard to make friends in America?

It was hard for me at first because I didn't know any English, so no one talked to me. Now I speak English and I have tons of American friends!

Juliana Abascal

Is the food different in America?

Yes, food is different in Columbia, because here food is salty, and there food is very spicy.

Is style (clothing) different in America?

In Columbia the weather is pretty much the same all year, so everyone wears hot weather clothes, like tank tops, shorts, and sandals.

Was/is it hard learning English?

It is challenging learning english, but I feel that with the help of my teachers I will be fluent in no time!

Did you choose to come to America?

I chose to come to America.

Are the popular sports in your country popular here?

The most popular sports in Columbia are soccer and basketball.

I had a uniform at my school in Columbia.

Most Anticipated Upcoming Movies of November and December

By Khiam Potts

NOTE: We are not recommending these movies; we are just covering which featured movies are being released.

1. Doctor Strange (PG-13) (Release date - November 4, 2016)

Doctor Strange is going to be the most recent and last Marvel movie this year. Based off the Marvel comics, "Doctor Strange" is about a man who loses the use of his hands and gains reality manipulating powers set to save reality itself.

"I am a big Marvel fan and I am looking forward to seeing it, even though I am not really a huge Dr.Strange fan."-Khiam

2. Fantastic Beasts and Where to Find Them (PG-13) (Release date - November 18, 2016)

From J.K Rowling, the creator of the award winning Harry Potter franchise, comes the new movie based off the book "Fantastic Beasts and Where to Find Them".

In the same Wizarding World of Harry Potter comes Newt Scamander, who is a Beast tamer trying to catch all of his beasts that got loose around New York City.

"I love the Harry Potter series and I think this spinoff looks like a fun movie to watch."

-Khiam

3. Assassin's creed (PG-13) (Release date-December 21, 2016)

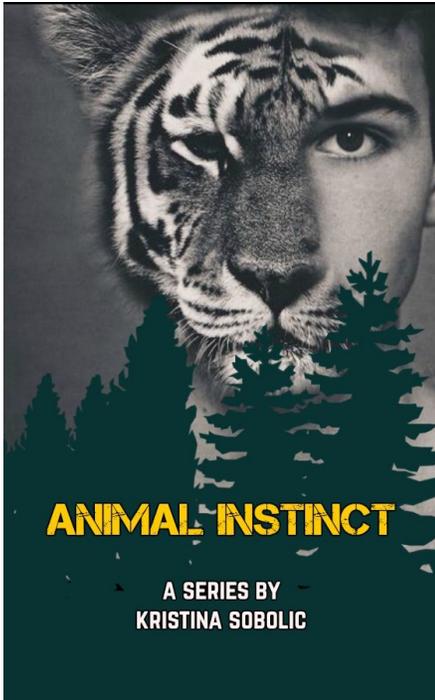

Based off the Award winning Videogame franchise by Ubisoft comes Assassins Creed. Similar to the games, a man goes into a simulation system called the Animus that simulates the past of his Ancestor who is part of a race of Assassins in the middle of the Spanish Inquisition, where none the games ever took place before.

"Honestly, I am kind of worried since every movie based off a videogame has never been good. I am praying that this won't ruin an awesome game franchise."

-Khiam

Animal Instinct

By: Kristina Sobolic

Previously on Animal Instinct; Rydian contemplated life in his new town, adjusting was hard for him. He has just gotten kicked out of Mr. Stevens' class, but his brother saw him.

*after school*

"RHYDIAN! GET DOWN HERE NOW!" Mom was upset, like, really, really, upset. She found out. Uhg...

"Coming!" I huffed and trudged downstairs trying to hear what she was talking about on the phone.

"Louis came home and told me that he saw you get kicked out of Mr. Stevens class again!" She started to ramble. "You know we came here so we wouldn't have to hide our true identities. We live in the middle of a forest Rhydian!

your stupidity?! We have a safe place here, you can't ruin it just how much longer do we have to move from place to place due to because you feel like it! It-its just I-I'm tired of moving." And with that she broke down crying.

"Mom! It's going to be ok! I'm gonna fix this, i promise."

"That's what you said last time" she sniffled.

"I-I know. I'm sorry"

"You need to step your game up and gain some responsibility."

She slammed the door as she walked back into her bedroom.

"LOUIS!!! GET DOWN HERE!!!"

"What do you want?!" He whined from the stairs.

"Why'd you tell mom?!"

"Because you told mom when you found me smoking!"

"Louis! You're 15!"

"So?"

"Whatever, I give up." I started running out the back door.

The fresh cold air always cleared my mind. I loved it up here. The backwoods of Maine were just so inviting, they just made me feel at home. I heard a twig snap behind me.

"What is it Lou?"

"Wow, ok some ones in a bad mood. What'd he do this time?"

"Hey Harold. He's just being his usual self." We talked for about an hour or so by the lake. Ashton and the other guys came up too.

We had made plans to go to the Madhouse. It was this awesome ice house that had been abandoned in a little cove.

"Hey guys! Where ya' going?!"

can't betray the guys and show off our hiding spot. I could see the look of sadness wash over his face, but I knew the guys would kill me, I could already see them "Oh,.. uhg hey Lou we're just going fishing. You can't come." I know it was a lie, but I feel like I getting upset. They had brought a bottle of vodka and it had started to slip out of Luke's hands telling by his awkward shuffling from side to side.

I couldn't take this anymore; I had always had had a soft spot for Louis.

He shifted uneasily.

"Hey guys you start heading out, I need to talk with Lou. I'll catch up."

They didn't need to be asked twice, they practically ran away from us.

"So, Lou, can you please tell me why you always tell mom about me getting in trouble?"

"Mom and Dad think you're such a great kid. A-and I guess i'm just jealous. I mean you get kicked out of class all the time and you are still considered the best kid! Mom doesn't believe that i can amount to anything. She thinks that I'm not capable of being anything but a little kid! She will always look at me like i have problems or something! I know I have better grades than you but she still seems to like you more."
